

CALL FOR PAPERS

International Journal of Coaching Science

The International Journal of Coaching Science is calling for manuscripts on research pertaining to the field of coaching. The journal publishes original theoretical or empirical papers, and research articles may be either qualitative or quantitative in nature. Topics may comprise any of a wide variety of fields relevant to coaching, including psychology, pedagogy, management, sociology, biomechanics, and physiology. The journal encourages the integration of research and practice in the field, and published manuscripts must discuss the applied nature of the research to the field of coaching.

The International Journal of Coaching Science is a new peer-reviewed journal. It will be jointly published by the Korean Coaching Development Center and the International Council for Coach Education. The mandate of the journal is to publish multidisciplinary research pertaining to the field of coaching.

All manuscripts should be written in English and prepared according to the guidelines of the American Psychological Association publication manual (5th edition). Submissions will be subjected to a rigorous peer-reviewed process. Submissions and other inquiries should be addressed to:

Philip Sullivan, Ph.D., Editor
The International Journal of Coaching Science
Department of Physical Education and Kinesiology
Brock University
St. Catharines, ON Canada L2S 3A1
Phil.sullivan@brocku.ca

E-mail submissions are encouraged.

